

Central New York Humanities Corridor

PREVIEW the application questions for the Fall 2024 Writing Retreat (October 18-20)
at the Minnowbrook Conference Center in Blue Mountain Lake, NY

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Monday, January 17, 2024

Review the Call for Applications on the Corridor website before applying online.

Full Name:

Email Address:

Home Institution:

Department(s) + Field(s):

Current Title/Position(s):

Faculty Line Status: untenured / untenured but anticipated by Summer 2024 / tenured / other faculty line (e.g., postdoc, lecturer, professor of practice, visiting, etc.)

Select any/all categories below that apply to you:

BIPOC faculty

LGBTQ+ faculty

First-generation faculty (i.e., your parents did not attend a 4-year college/university)

Women faculty

Other (explain)

Are you a faculty member who currently or historically has been in service-heavy administrative roles? [If you select "Yes" above, briefly describe administrative and service responsibilities]

Upload a PDF version of your CV (Please use the naming format of LastName_FirstName_CV.pdf.)

Describe the piece of writing you plan to work on at the retreat. Make sure to clarify how it engages with and contributes to the humanities. (4000 character limit, approx. 500 words)

Describe why the retreat would benefit this stage of your project. (2000 character limit, approx. 250 words)

Is there a particular topic or challenge you would like to see addressed at this or future writing retreats? (2000 character limit, approx. 250 words)

Acknowledgements for sign-off before submission

* Confirm that you are fully vaccinated at the time of application.

* Acknowledge that additional health protections may be required to participate in this retreat.

* Yes, I understand that, if my proposal is accepted:

The Corridor will provide full tuition, meals, and lodging during the retreat;

I will cover the costs of travel to Minnowbrook Conference Center in Blue Mountain Lake, NY;

I will participate in the retreat for its entire duration (arriving by 11:30am on Friday, Oct. 18, departing early afternoon on Sunday, Oct. 20); and I understand that workshops and consultations will be offered remote-format. [NOTE: this helps the Corridor maximize slots for awardees.]

Applicants will receive an emailed copy of their application upon submitting.