

Borders, Captivity and Memory in Transnational Italy and the Mediterranean

A Virtual Symposium in Two Parts

Friday

March 18, 2022

9:45am-4:15pm ET

VIRTUAL EVENT

Part 1

Racial Justice and the Black Mediterranean

9:45am-11:30am ET

Welcome and Roundtable I:
Cultural, Legal, and Sociological Perspectives on Racial Justice in Italy and the Mediterranean

12:00 noon-1:30pm ET

Keynote: Racial Justice and the Black Mediterranean, featuring Camilla Hawthorne and Angelica Pesarini in dialogue, with Simone Brioni and Teresa Fiore

1:30pm-2:15pm ET

Student reflection session, facilitated by Simone Brioni and Teresa Fiore

2:45pm-4:15pm ET

Roundtable 2: “Italian others”:
Histories of Racialized Migration and Diaspora Between the Nineteenth Century and the Present

Co-organized by Elena Bellina (University of Rochester) and Eleanor Paynter (Cornell University) through the Central New York Humanities Corridor (LLC35). Co-sponsored by the Montclair State University’s Inserra Chair in Italian and Italian American Studies; the AAIS Critical Race Studies Caucus; Cornell University’s Migrations initiative, Einaudi Center for International Studies, Institute for European Studies and Department of Romance Studies; the University of Rochester’s Humanities Center, Department of Modern Languages and Cultures and the Humanities Department at the Eastman School of Music.

The Department of Romance Studies

EASTMAN
SCHOOL OF MUSIC
UNIVERSITY OF ROCHESTER

The Department of Modern Languages & Cultures

Humanities Center