

MÉXICO NOW: STORYTELLING, POWER, AND RESISTANCE IN THE 21ST CENTURY

A MEXICANISTS OF CENTRAL NEW YORK COLLOQUIUM

October 31-November 1
Skidmore College

The Mexicanists of Central New York working group invites proposals to participate in the colloquium México Now: Storytelling, Power, and Resistance in the 21st Century, to be held at Skidmore College in Saratoga Springs, NY, on October 31 and November 1, 2025.

Keynote speakers include renowned authors Guadalupe Nettel and Juan Pablo Villalobos. We seek proposals on Mexican literature, film, art, and other cultural expressions. We are especially interested in presentations that examine storytelling as a site of power and resistance in 21st-century Mexico, particularly in the works of Guadalupe Nettel and Juan Pablo Villalobos.

Proposals should include a title, a 200-word abstract, and a brief bio, and should be submitted through this form. Acceptances will be made on a rolling basis. Thanks to the generous support of the CNY Humanities Corridor, there is no registration fee.

For questions, contact the co-organizers:

María Lander (mlander@skidmore.edu)

Oscar Pérez Hernández (operezhe@skidmore.edu)

Sponsored by:

Department of World Languages and Literatures

